The Childless Mother.

BY MARY CLEMMER AMES.

I lay my tasks down one by one,
I sit in the silence in twilight's grace;
Out of its shadow, soft and dun,
Steals like a star my baby's face.

Mocking cold are the world's poor joys,
How poor to me all its pomp and pride;
In my lap lie the baby's idle toys,
In this very room the baby died.

I will shut these broken toys away
Under the lid where they mutely bide;
I will smile in the face of the noisy day,
Just as if baby had never died.

I will take up my work once more,
As if I had never laid it down;
Who will dream that I ever wore
Motherhood's fine and holy crown!

Who will deem my life ever bore
Fruit the sweeter in grief and pain;
The fleeting smile that the baby wore
Outrayed the light of the loftiest brain.

I'll meet the man in the world's rude din
Who hath outlived his mother's kiss,
Who hath forsaken her love for sin—
I will be spared her pang in this.

Man's way is hard and sore beset;
Many must fall, but few can win.
Thanks, dear Shepherd! My lamb is safe,
Safe from sorrow and safe from sin.

Nevertheless, the way is long,
And tears leap up in the light of the sun;
I'd give my world for a cradle-song,
And a kiss from baby—only one.—Independent.

Lady Editors.

We copy the following from a Cincinnati paper:

It is now some two years since the office of the Tribune was assailed, one fine morning, by what appeared very much like a wild Irish girl. She applied to the meek-faced Horace for a position on the staff of the moral Tribune. She talked horses to Horace. She amazed him by the scope of her equine knowledge, but 'twas no go. Horace didn't want a horse editress. She then entered into a discussion with the farmer-editor on the subject of carrots and cabbages. Horace admitted that she had a wonderful knowledge of agricultural subjects, but preferred to be his own editor in that department. Failing to gain the position she sought on the Tribune, the lady's next visit was to the Sun; but Dana proved as obdurate as Greeley, and she had to beat a retreat there. Finally she was caught up by the Times and made agricultural editor of that paper, and here she has remained ever since. Her department includes the reporting of all the races and cattle shows throughout the country, and she is always to be met at these places. It is a curious sight to see, moving about among the sporting men and reporters, the strapping form of Middie Morgan. But she is not out of place, if knowledge of a subject can capacitate one for a place. She knows more about horses and their diseases than nine-tenths of the professional horsemen in the country. Middie, although a giantess in form, has a most amiable and pleasing face, and is every inch the real lady. She has the one fault that seems to permeate the entire feminine genus. She will talk, and her conversation is oftentimes voluminous, but then she is always so thoroughly good natured that one never gets tired even of her tattle. She is known and heartily welcomed at every race course in the country, and her reports of the contests in the turf in no wise fall behind those of her sterner colaborers in the editorial field.

No enumeration of the women who have succeeded in daily journalism would be complete without Miss Nelly Hutchinson, of the Tribune, the sprightly, industrious, and saucy girl who for a year or two did so much of the Tribune's reporting, but is now off duty resting on her laurels. Miss Hutchinson is a native of this city, daughter of a former United States consul. Thrown upon her own resources at 18, she wrote sketches for the New York weeklies—a poor quality, probably, for they were printed and paid for. In 1869 she sent out a sketch of a woman's rights meeting to the Tribune. Being published, it attracted the attention of the editor, and he sent for her and engaged her for other similar service. She gradually developed capacity for a much higher grade of work, and extended her sphere to general sketches, correspondence, special articles and editorial paragraphs.

Mr. Reid says of her, in reply to my inquiries, "She displayed more capacity than I have ever known in any other woman for continuous, persistent work, having frequently, on occasions of necessity, written three columns of the Tribune's small type in the course of the working hours of one day, often preparing it to be transmitted to us by telegraph from points several hundred miles distant from this office. She was always ready for any assignment and equal to any emergency." This is high praise, and it indicates that whatever H. G. may think of the woman suffragists, his first lieutenant is ready to declare with Lowell,

"For me, I respect neither women nor men
For their gender, nor own any sex in a pen."

Miss Hutchinson is piquant, audacious, satirical, reckless, and sometimes almost insolent in style; is fragile in appearance, nearly pretty, with a face that is full of ambition, self-assertion, enterprise, fun and vivacity. Moreover, she has the nez retrousse—a nose for news.

Value of Salt.

This substance is remarkable as constituting the only mineral eaten by man. Not only does it afford an indispensable and wholesome condiment for our tables, but it forms an essential constituent of the blood, and supplies to the human system the loss sustained by saline secretions. Its antiseptic properties are invaluable; but although it preserves, it ultimately changes and deteriorates the quality of the food to which it is applied, rendering the same innutritious and indigestible; for salt, notwithstanding its being a strong stimulant to the animal fiber, is not convertible into nutriment. This is the cause while sailors who subsist long upon salted provisions are subject to the sea scurvy. Its medicinal qualities are also remarkable. While all other saline preparations tend to cool, this but heats the body and engenders thirst. Some years ago, a medical man wrote a brochure in which he condemned the use of salt, attributing to it all the diseases to which flesh is heir. The poor fellow eventually committed suicide.—Only lately a book has appeared in which the writer, who is a physician, recommends salt as a sure antidote to the contagion of small pox. Doctors will of course disagree; but as variola is acknowledged to arise from a diseased or poisoned condition of the blood, the use of salt may possibly form a safe and effective specific. Salt is not only an agreeable condiment, but also an indispensable requisite. When moderately used, it acts as a gentle stimulant to the stomach, and gives piquancy and relish to our food. In Africa, the high caste children suck rock salt as if it were sugar, although the poorer classes of natives cannot so indulge their palates. Hence the expression, in vogue among them, "He eats salt with his victuals," signifying that the person alluded to is an opulent man. In those countries where mineral salt is not procurable, and where the inhabitants are far removed from the sea, a kind of saline power is prepared from certain vegetable products to serve in its stead. Indeed, so highly is salt valued in some places—such as Prester John's country—that from its very scarcity it is employed as a substitute for money.

ADULTERATION OF LARD.—A Canadian druggist lately obtained some lard from a respectable pork dealer, the article being noticeable on account of its extreme whiteness. In using a portion of it in the preparation of ointment of nitrate of mercury, the color became gradually deeper till it was of a slaty hue. The lard was tested and was found to contain a large proportion of lime, and it was subsequently stated, by a man in the trade, that the mixing of two per cent. or more milk of lime with melted lard is a common practice. The combination of the alkali with some portion of the fat saponifies, and allows 25 per cent. of water to be stirred in without being detected.

THE DAILY FREEMAN.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT.)

TUESDAY, APRIL 16, 1872.

To-Day's Election.

The citizens of the City of Kingston desire to give it a fair start under its new machinery. It is therefore desirable that they should select the men best qualified for the several positions to be filled. This was the object of the Citizens' movement, which is stayed, and in the main has accomplished, the work.

The nominees for Supervisors, now that Flynn is off, are all good, and commend themselves to the cause of reform, in the interests of which they were nominated. It is to the interest of the new city that they should be in sympathy with the political majority. Questions of taxation will come up with especial prominence during the first session of our local legislature since the charter was passed, and to best subserve the interests of the city in valuation and taxation there should be substantial accord between the majority of the Board of Supervisors and those we send from the city. Every consideration, then, of public welfare requires that the union movement be supported with substantial unanimity.

For Aldermen the nominations are good, and include a larger number of gentlemen experienced in municipal matters than we could have expected.

For Mayor the contrast is so sharp and well-defined as to attract the attention and excite the remark of every one. Mr. Lindsley's fitness for the position is acknowledged upon every hand. He is experienced, able, thoroughly conversant with the municipality he will have to supervise, and is so peculiarly qualified that when the city became a fixed fact and citizens began to cast around for a Mayor their thoughts naturally tended to James G. Lindsley. An old citizen, always active, earnest and energetic in matters affecting the welfare of the locality, he fills every requirement.

His opponent, Mr. Brill, has no experience in municipal affairs, is a prominent member of the Ring whose operations have disgraced the county, and was engaged in the bounty corruptions to an extensive degree, to the great loss of the county. When acting as Supervisor and under the pay of the town he represented, he corruptly charged his town a profit of $400 per man on the men he put in to fill the quota. The bounty debt of the county is enormous, and it was swelled to its present dimensions by such practices as that. He swore himself that he and his partner made a profit of $400 per man on 16 men. The whole quota for the county in 1864 was 1769. Supposing the Supervisors only filled half the quota themselves they must have made $333,600 on that draft. The quota of Saugerties was about 180. How many Mr. Brill put in we know not, but from the fact that his share of the plunder on 16 men was $3,200, it is quite easy to see that he must have made an enormous amount, approaching tens of thousands of dollars. It is part of this plunder that he is distributing around among the wards to elect himself.

Now are the people of our city prepared to vote an approval of such practices? Do they feel so delighted at being robbed as to invite a man who plundered the county while serving in an official capacity, to take a higher position, that the Ring may be glorified and the public service demoralized and degraded? Rather should their verdict be condemnatory in a special degree. It should be crushing in its weight of numbers, that the Ring may know that our people desire the total overthrow and annihilation of the organization which has had no other object or aim than the plunder of the county and town for ten years back.

Douglas Rebukes the Saints.

Thanks to the progress of ideas in this glorious country of ours, Frederick Douglas has journeyed to the extreme south, even to New Orleans, and there raised up his voice and spoke to his race. While on the way, and when standing amidst the ruins of the old slave marts, none molested him or tried to make him afraid. Truly he must have felt the grandeur of the achievements of the Republican party, acknowledged he had not suffered in vain, and been ready to raise his eyes to heaven and exclaim, "now let thy servant depart in peace."

Under all the circumstances he could not speak in any other than tones of love of his party. Through it he and the negro race "have been brought up out of the house of bondage," and made freemen. But while avowing fidelity to it he warns the nation that it must go forward, not backward. Then he turned and administered a rebuke to some of the latter day, Republican Saints which must close their mouths, unless they are moved by hearts of stone:

"General Grant is an honorable man and one for whom I expect to vote (cheers); yet the Republican party has other leaders beside General Grant (enthusiastic applause).—There is now a man in Washington who represents the future, and is a majority in himself; a man at whose feet Grant learns wisdom; that man is Charles Sumner (applause). I know them both; they are great men, but Sumner is steady, he is no flickering light. For twenty-five years he has worked for the Republican party, and I hope I may cease forever if I cease to give all honor to Charles Sumner."

There will be thousands wishing Douglas filled the seats of the revilers, though he is black.

Capt. Flynn.

Citizens of the 2d Department, composed of the 4th, 5th and 6th Wards, should make special effort to defeat Capt. Flynn. He is the representative of Tammany, and though he says that charge of $5,000 plunder came from the Sun, and that he came from Albany poorer than he went, we can't believe it. The Captain has been deceiving a great many people in his Ward and Department. He should be beaten, and every vote possible be polled against him. We've had enough corrupt men in our Board of Superisors without sending Flynn there.

A disastrous fires which swept over some portions of Wisconsin last fall are not entirely extinguished yet. The smoke is still issuing through the snow from the low grounds in the vicinity of Green Bay, where the ground is swampy and filled with roots.

Camden, Oneida County, reports that it has had sleighing for 160 consecutive days; that the snow is now upon a level with the tops of the fences, and four feet deep in the roads; that the streams are still frozen solid, and that the ground is frozen to the depth of five feet.

Mr. Greeley writes to a confectioner in Boston that in making calves'-foot jelly the Durham breed should always be selected. Take a live calf, place the hind feet in a corn mill, and then commence to turn, and the jelly will flow out in its crude state. Collect this in a pan, and throw away the calf.

Olive Logan commenced one of her lectures at Newark, recently, with the remark, "When I see a pretty girl, I want to clasp her in my arms." "So do we," shouted the boys in the gallery. For a moment Olive was nonplussed, but recovering her self-possession, she replied, "Well, boys, I don't blame you."

Syracuse is the home of a veritable prodigy in the shape of a young man who possesses the power of singing two parts of a tune at the same time. His name is Wesley Arold, and he is a member of the Syracuse University.—He astonished a recent gathering of clergymen by singing clearly and sweetly the bass and soprano of "Old Hundred."

A hotel-clerk in Pittsburg, Penn., has manifested enterprise, but unhappily turned it into wrong directions. He has just married two wives, set up a boarding house with the second, victimized sundry shop-keepers, not to mention his friends, and wound up with eloping with one of his sisters-in-law.

Bishop Simpson perpetrated a good thing in answer to a question of church government, raised by some persons who objected that Dr. Newman ought to resign his chaplaincy to the Senate, as his pastoral period in Washington had expired. Bishop Simpson promptly declared that, under the general law of the church, he had the power to appoint chaplains to reformatory institutions, and he considered the United States Senate to fall within the scope of the rule.

A lady of Springfield, Ill., bids fair to complicate Saint Peter's marriage statistics worse than the hypothetical widow of the Sadducee's parable. She has had seven husbands already and is still young enough to hope, with anything like ordinary luck, to double the number. The question as to whose wife of them she is to be hereafter may not, however, be so perplexing, for it is matter of history that only one man ever went to heaven from Illinois, and he was refused admission because Saint Peter couldn't be persuaded that there was any such place on the map.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, April 12.

There is authority from one of the gentlemen mentioned for saying that the alleged meeting in Washington between Senator Schurz and other Republicans with Pendleton, Morgan and other Democrats did not take place.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

NEW YORK, April 15.

Isadore Wormser has sued the wife of the noted Andrew J. Garvey for the performance of a specific contract in the sale to him of sixteen lots of land on Madison avenue for $215,000. The property was conveyed to a brother, when Andy sloped, and by him conveyed to Andy's wife. When the sale was to be delivered to plaintiff he objected that under the bankruptcy act at any time within six months of the contract, the deed might be avoided by a petitioner in bankruptcy on the proof that plaintiff had reasonable ground for suspicion of Garvey's insolvency, and he asked evidence to remove the suspicion the flight and conveyance had created. These Mrs. Garvey failed to give and the plaintiff, after waiting six months, brought this suit to compel the performance of the contract.

Forty-Second Congress--Second Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 15.

The Vice President submitted a message of the President vetoing the bill to increase the pension of Mrs. Abigail Ryan, which on motion of Mr. EDMUNDS was referred to the Committee on Pensions.

After some discussion an understanding was arrived at that the case of the North Carolina Senatorship shall be again taken up on next Monday.

The bill reported by the select committee on southern outrages, which had been assigned for Monday, is now set for Wednesday of next week.

The deficiency appropriation bill was then proceeded with. Among the amendments adopted are the following: Appropriating $29,000 to pay the mileage of Senators at the executive session last May, to ratify the Alabamy treaty; authorizing extra compensation, in the discretion of the President, to certain U.S. Consuls. For continuing work on the State Department building during the balance of the present fiscal year $200,000. Reducing the amount appropriated for the Quartermaster's Department to $420,000. Providing that no part of the appropriation for the signal service nor any appropriation for the several departments of the government shall be expended for telegraphing between said departments and their officers or agents, except at rates first to be established by Postmaster General under section 2 of chapter 230 of the statutes of 1866, when over lines subject thereto. To supply deficiency in the appropriation for the ninth census $20,000. Without action on the bill the Senate adjourned at 6 o'clock.

HOUSE.

Mr. WILLIAMS of Indiana, chairman of the Committee on expenditures in the War Department, made a report, with testimony taken on the investigation into the sale of arms and ordnance stores during the Franco-Prussian war. Ordered printed, together with the views of the minority. The committee reports the following conclusions:

First, that the act of Congress of July 20th, 1868, authorizing the sale of unsuitable arms, gave, by a fair interpretation of its letter and spirit, full authority to the Secretary of War to sell and dispose of the arms and ordnance stores in question, and that in doing so he violated neither the letter nor spirit of the law. Second, that the proceeds of the sales were promptly paid into the Treasury. Third, that no sales were made to any known agent of either of the belligerent governments and that no act was done by the Secretary of War or any of his subordinates that was calculated to impair or violate any international obligation. Fourth, that no official of the United States government was pecuniarily benefitted in connection with the sales. Fifth, that the only party benefitted was the government of the United States, in having disposed of unsuitable arms at the highest market price, to the amount of nearly ten millions of dollars.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the river and harbor improvement bill.

The bill passed, with but a few unimportant amendment.

Mr. HANCOCK introduced a bill for the appointment by the President of three commissioners at a salary of $10 per day each to inquire into the depredations on the frontiers of Texas by bands of Indians and Mexicans, and appropriating $6000 for the expenses of the commission. Bill passed the House. Adjourned.

To provide for paying the officers of the session before the number was reduced.

Authorizing the governor to appoint commissioners to examine cases of lunacy; ten for New York county and five for each other county. Personal.

John H. Deyo has engaged the services of Herman Brown, of Rhinebeck, as salesman in his dry goods store.

Withdrawn.

We are requested to state that Mr. David P. Hallahan have withdrawn as a candidate for Alderman on the Democratic ticket.

Precautionary.

The cream-colored team has been in law so much and in limbo so often that they are to be furnished with almanacs to tell when railroad notes fall due.

The Railroad Committee.

The gentlemen composing the Rondout & Oswego Railroad Committee are John Satterlee, Peter Masten, E. B. Newkirk, Charles Griffin, Reuben Bernard.

Coal Arrivals.

On Monday only three canal boats, laden with three hundred and seventy tons of coal, reached tide water, but at the coal company's office in this city eighty-five permits were issued for boats to go up the canal.

Handsome Carriage.

Messrs. Shultis & Co., the up-town livery stable keeper, has purchased one of the finest carriages in the country. A ride in it makes a man forget all his earthly troubles. There is only one like it in the city of New York, and that Vanderbilt owns.

Nominations.

William B. Scott has been nominated for Supervisor for the second department, on the citizens' ticket, in place of P. J. Flynn, and Thomas Scott, on the same ticket, in place of Michael A. Cummings for Assessor.

Protest.

It is due that we should say that the nomination of Patrick J. Flynn by the Democrats, for Supervisor of the Second Department, was made in the face of a vigorous protest of D. C McMillan, one of the members of the Convention. He refused to acquiesce in the nomination, his action being based alone on Flynn's Albany record.

An Excellent Policeman.

One of the most vigilant policemen we have in the city is HIRAM MYERS of the ninth ward. He seems to be a terror to all evil-doers in that locality, and is always on hand when necessity demands. People in the upper part of the city say that he would make an excellent Chief of Police.

A Bogus Ticket.

In the Eighth Ward a bogus ticket has been circulated headed "Citizens' Ticket" with Andrew J. Story's name on it for Alderman. The Citizens' nominees for Aldermen are William H. Fredenbergh and John Pettit. Let citizens examine well their tickets.

Notice.

The well known salesman, Mr. John A. Heiser, for a long time with Masten & Hayes, is now with the long established firm of Jas. O. Merritt, Brodhead & Co., at their Kingston store, where he will be most happy to see his friends and the public generally.

United States Publishing Company.

The agent of this institution, who for some time past has been at work in this city getting advertisements for a time table circular, has gone to Poughkeepsie, for a similar purpose. He has met with good success here, which we are glad to learn. People who advertise, in any way, always get well repaid for the outlay.

Obscene Literature.

In several places in this State, indictments have been found against sellers of obscene literature, consisting of such papers as the Day's Doing, New Varieties, &c., which contain bawdy prints. The sale of these papers in our respectable news offices, and on the railroad cars, is having a most pernicious influence on the younger portion of the community. Yesterday Judge Learned called the attention of the Grand Jury to the statute in forcible language, hoping they would try and check the evil.

Express Accommodation.

Mr. D. C. Reid, the enterprising agent of the American Merchants' Union Express Company, has made arrangements with the steamers Cornell and Baldwin by which he will receive freight by those steamers. It will be remembered that a similar arrangement was in operation last summer and afforded great accommodation to freighters.

Handsome Picture.

Mrs. John Dillon has completed and donated to the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society a beautiful oil painting. It is entitled "The Watcher," and represents a young girl watching by the side of a sleeping infant. The painting is very true to nature, the faces extremely expressive and the coloring very fine. It is now to be seen at Rev. E. D. Ledyard's and is for sale to the highest bidder.

Concert To-Night.

This evening the Vienna Lady Orchestra give their first vocal and instrumental entertainment in this city at Washington Hall. They are artists of splendid musical accomplishments, and give a concert which will be an opportunity for enjoyment rarely offered to our citizens. We bespeak for them a full house, and those desiring seats should go early, as large numbers of tickets have been sold.

Montrepose Cemetery Association.

At a meeting of the Montrepose Cemetery Association held at the office of Stow & Benson on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and of which Johannis D. Hasbrouck, Esq., was temporary chairman and D. B. Stow secretary, Mr. Walter B. Crane was elected President; C. V. Quilliard, Superintendent; D. B. Stow, Secretary; Messrs. Thomas Cornell and Walter B. Crane, Trustees for three years; Palmer A. Canfield and Edwin Sherer for two years, and A. A. Crosby and R. Deyo for one year.

Tows.

The following-named vessels left this city in tow of the steamer Oswego, For New York, schooner Roamer; barges Manchester, John Darrow, First Effort, T. Corning, Winchester, Relief, L. A. Sykes. For Sing Sing barge Halleck. Boats for New York, I. Shoemaker, Harrison Jacobs, James Holmes, Westmoreland, Olive Branch, Board of Trade, Rudington, T. H. Stevens, Tilly, T. Van Dusen, Morse, Wm. M. Randall, Twaalfskill, F. O. Norton, 581, 1353.

Steamer Isaac M. North for Newburgh, boat Abb. Smith—for Poughkeepsie, boat 1153, and Gift; for Fishkill, boat Star.

Steamer Norwich for Albany, boats North America, Howard, Frank Eno, Cornet, Wide Awake, 1424, 1667, 1560, 1315—for Coxsackie, boat 417,—for Troy, 327 and 903—for Castleton, 1888 and barge Castleton.

Capsized.

On Sunday afternoon between four and five o'clock, Jolly Justice Dick Sparling harnessed up a colt of his and invited Herm. Shader to go riding with him. They were going along very nicely through "the lane," when all at once, seemingly without cause, the colt shied, and darting to one side of the road threw the wagon down an embankment, throwing the two men out upon the ground. Dick was caught under the wagon, but Shader, alighting upon his feet, seized the reins and pulled with such force the colt was thrown in such a manner as to leave its head toward the hind end of the overturned wagon. The horse was held down by Shader and Dick, who had extricated himself from under the vehicle, until the harness was stripped from the horse, when it was let up, put before the wagon, which had one wheel broken, driven to Kingston and another wagon obtained, when the colt was driven to Clare's and back.

County.

The Ellenville Journal says, a team of Jim Helm's went over the bank at the Cape quarry one day last week, and made a descent of between fifty and sixty feet before they struck terra firma again, though we believe they crushed a good sized tree in their downward passage, which no doubt broke the force of the fall to some extent. The team is again on duty. Jim saved himself from the fall by a leap over the backs of his horses, just as the wagon went over.

Call Accepted.

Rev. W. W. Brush, of Stone Ridge, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Reformed Church at Geneva.

Don't Want to Go.

The Ellenville Press says the Wawarsing people don't want to go to Sullivan county, but prefer to organize a new county, with Ellenville as the county seat.

The Lowest Depth.

The road from the chain ferry to Port Ewen, can boast of one of the finest mud holes in the country. There is no chance to avoid it, for it extends from fence to fence, across the road. Its depth is unknown, as no animal as yet has managed to touch bottom. We should judge however, that the bottom is on a level with the river, and we make this assertion from bitter, bitter experience, in trying to solve its depths.

Improvement.

Peter Clare, the proprietor of the St. Nicholas Hotel, better known as the Red House, in Pine Bush, has removed the partition between the bar-room and the conservatory, substituting arches supported by turned chestnut pillars in its place, thus throwing the two rooms into one; and as the conservatory is a perfect wilderness of flowering plants and creepers the effect can be imagined but must be seen to be fully appreciated. The St. Nicholas is one of the very best conducted hotels in the country, and from cellars to rafters is as neat as a new pin. If Peter does "know how to keep a hotel" Mrs. Clare's head is very level on the same subject.

Foreshadowing.

The New Paltz Times makes the following rather exciting announcement: It is rumored that (and we are in possession of facts which it would not be prudent to make known at this time) a first-class sensation will soon develop itself in this vicinity; also at Highland. "Murder will out" is an old saying, and crime will convict itself. Wealth may "cloak" and the church "wink" at the wickedness of some of its members for a while, but the bubble will burst, and then will come the heart-breakings, divided families, etc. Our Saviour loved little children, but that was before we had abolitionists. Wait and see.

Rough on a Doctor.

Last Monday eve, April first, Dr. Gunning of Searsville was visited at his office by a man, who represented himself as from the neighborhood of Ulsterville, who desired the Doctor to visit a very sick woman, in the latter neighborhood, by the very unromantic name of Mrs. Jump. The Doctor being worn and weary as was his good horse, having plodded all day and a portion of the night through the mud, visiting the many sick people under his care, replied that he could not go, but the man insisted, represented the necessity of the case, and promised to take the Doctor and bring him back. The kind hearted Doctor thereupon consented and went. On their arrival Mrs. Jump had already died. Being very skillful, he was nevertheless unable to resuscitate the dead, and wished to return to Searsville forthwith. The man aforesaid, whoever he was, refused teetotally to do as he promised. He would not bring the good doctor back. The doctor was obliged in the dead hours of the night, through the almost foundering mud, to plod back his excessively weary way on foot, and near the break of day on Tuesday reached his Searsville domicile, physically a used up man, a badly deceived and feeless individual.

CIRCUIT COURT AND COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Circuit Court and Court of Oyer and Terminer convened at 2 P. M., Monday, April 15th, 1872, Hon. Wm. Learned, Judge, presiding.

After hearing several motions, the Grand Jury were called and sworn.

The Court then delivered his charge, during which he spoke particularly about the statute concerning the sale of obscene literature, papers containing bawdy prints, &c., and hoped the jury would do something to put a stop to the matter.

The calendar was then called. This calendar is for Circuit Court, but by an odd mistake of the printer is entitled "Ulster County Court Calendar."

The Court adjourned at 6 o'clock until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The session will quite likely be a short one, as but few of the cases are ready for trial, and the trial of those that are ready will take but a few days.

New York M. E. Conference.

Judge Wm. J. Groo, of Middletown, and J. B. Cornell of New York, were chosen Lay Delegates to the General Conference, to be held in Brooklyn, commencing May 1st.

Men Against Steam.

A noval trial of strength came off at Port Rowan, the other day. Two gentlemen made three bets, as follows: First, that twenty picked men could hold the steam-tug Watchman, of twenty-horse power; second, that ten men could hold her; third, that twenty-five men could stop her while under way. The tug lost in all three contests. Two minutes were allowed for each trial. The contest was witnessed by a large number of spectators.

Jubilee.

The engineers on the Erie Railway held "high" jubilee on the 10th inst., from three to five o'clock, P. M., where the "power" and "quality" of their instruments were fully tested. The concert was held at Bridge 21 near Monroe on the Erie, the occasion being the "nuptials" of Mr. B. F. Montanye of Hornellsville, N. Y., and Miss Mary C. Galloway of Blooming Grove, Orange County, N. Y. Our correspondent was made the bearer of many "good wishes" for the FREEMAN, and the necessary "dream" cake for the editor's pillow.

The Watson Manufacturing Company's Bridges.

The bridges which went down the other day with such fatal effect under the pressure of a Midland train was a "Post Patent Combination," manufactured by the above-named company, which has just put up the famous Rosendale bridge. The Herald dispatch in an account of the Midland disaster says "that these bridges have proven dangerous failures. The employes have always been afraid of this bridge, as it swayed and bent; but the Watson Manufacturing Company being a responsible corporation the railroad company placed faith in their protestations that the bridge was perfectly safe."

The manufacturers of this bridge will no doubt see the necessity of an explanation on their part. If there have been many disasters, there must be defect. If there is defect which endangers life, the continued manufacture of the bridges becomes a crime. A "man trap" is not a proper railroad bridge.—Newburyh Journal.

VICINITY.

Nyack talks of building a hotel which will accommodate 500 guests.

The Matteawan M. E. Church has raised $8,000 to pay on its debt.

The Cold Spring M. E. congregation has completed a very handsome parsonage.

Work has been resumed on the unfinished ends of the Po'keepsie & Eastern Railroad.

Port Jervis won't get its gas-works, as the bill before the Legislature has been adversely reported.

The land-slides were too much for the Port Jervis & Monticello R. R., which had to suspend operations entirely.

A young couple were lately married in Hudson, and in two weeks had to apply to the overseer of the poor for relief.

LOCAL NOTICES.

The Greatest Excitement SINCE THE FLOOD!

A. M. Low's PROCLAMATION FOR 1872, READ IT!

A. M. LOW, the popular Boot and Shoe Dealer of No. 19 Wall street, City of Kingston, desires the people to know that he has stocked his store for the Spring and Summer of 1872 with all the very latest styles of Boots and Shoes, which he is now offering at a figure that is an inducement for all in want of foot gear to extend to him their patronage. In the line of Men's Wear he introduces for the season a superior article of hand-made shoes, manufactured by Messrs. HANAN & REDDISH, of New York City. They are decidedly the "nobbiest" style ever placed in the market, made from the very best material and of the very best finish, and for which he is the sole agent in the City of Kingston. Besides these he has all other kinds in market of all the various shapes, styles, quality and prices.

Low has not the exclusive sale in this city of Women's and Misses' Shoes manufactured by Reynolds Brothers of Utica, and Munsen & Co. of Albany, articles celebrated for their beauty, finish, durability and peculiarity of preserving their shape. He is selling heaps of them daily, which is the best advertisement they can have, for everybody who buys them recommends them to their neighbors. As usual his stock is full in all the other grades of this line and will be kept so during the season.

Boys, Youths, Misses, Children, and Infants all go to Low's to get their feet clothed, for there they can find a stock to select from that beats anything outside of New York City. Had he space he would like to enumerate further—but it would fill this paper, and therefore he is obliged to stop with the simple announcement that he has the LARGEST STORE AND STOCK IN THE CITY—that he purchases at Wholesale and sells at retail, and that he is determined to keep the lead in his line of business, and not seeking a monopoly, invites competition from all sources, confident that he shall at least make his store worthy of patronage and one of the leading features of the new City of Kingston.

Respectfully, A. M. LOW,

THE IMPROVED

WHEELER & WILSON

Again Improved.

PERFECTION is our motto, and with this end in view, we have so improved the

FEEDING DEVICE

as vastly to improve its efficacy, while at the same time much less skill and care are required in its management. Neither the thread nor the cloth require holding, and both the thickest and thinnest goods are sewed perfectly. Seams are crossed with greater ease, and the work guided with scarce an effort. The

Distinctive Feature

of this Machine is the

ROTARY HOOK

to carry the loop of the upper thread around the spool containing the under, MAKING THE LOCK STITCH ALIKE ON BOTH SIDES OF FABRIC, thereby doing away with the vibratory motion of the shuttle, the tension upon the under thread, and all devices for taking up slack thread, necessary on all other two-thread machines. The public have endorsed these principles by purchasing 50,000 of our Machines.

LOOK AT THE FIGURES!

183,600 Machines per annum.

Many new machine companies have had their rise and fall—their machines once popular now scarcely known—others have made radical changes in order to exist; while the Howe Machine Company have adhered to the opinion of "Elias Howe, Master of Mechanics" ("The machine is mechanically correct; does not change"), built addition after addition to their factory, and to-day cannot supply the demand, although turning out six hundred machines a day—just a machine a minute.

THE ELIAS HOWE, JR.
Sewing Machines

The Howe Machine Co.

FOR FAMILIES AND MANUFACTURES,

THE GREAT PRIZE:
EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE, PARIS, 1867.
Awarded over eighty-two competitors

The Highest Premium,

THE ONLY CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR AND GOLD MEDAL,

Given to American Sewing Machines, per Imperial Decree, published in the "Moniteur Universel" (Official Journal of the French Empire,) Tuesday, 2d July, 1867, in these words:

ELIAS HOWE, JR. { Fabricante de Machines a coudre exposant. Manufacturer of Sewing Machines, Exhibitor.

The Howe Sewing Machines

Are celebrated and known for doing the best work, using a straight and much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine. They are adapted to any and all kinds of family sewing and manufacturing of every description, (from fine lace to patent leather,) making a beautiful and perfect Lock Stich, alike on both sides of the article sewed, and will neither rip nor ravel, and uses less thread.

Every machine is as near perfection as the best machinery in the world can make it. It is the oldest machine and has more improvements, and is nearer perfection than any other machine, the parts being exactly alike. If any of the parts need to be replaced, the operator can replace it, and it will outlast and outwear any machine made. They are remarkably simple and easily learned, sure in their operation, and almost impossible to break or get them out of order. They use any thread directly from the spool. The needle has a perpendicular motion, (absolutely necessary for heavy work,) runs easily, a fast sewer, and almost noiseless. They do not soil the dress of the operator, and do not have to be taken apart to oil and clean. The New Improved Family Machine cannot be surpassed and is without equal, and we CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a better machine on points of merit. A Hemmer, Feller, Gatherer, Braider, Quilter, Tucking Guide, and all the other necessary Tools go with each machine, free of charge.

☞Beware of spurious and bogus Howe's. The undersigned is the only authorized Agent for the Genuine Howe Machine.

Kingston March 30, 1872.

PHOTOGRAPHIC CARD,

As making pictures of young children has become a very important branch of the business, a few hints on the subject will not be amiss as a guide to those interested.

Mothers who wish to have babies appear in white should dress them in light blue, pink or Solferino; nicely trimmed or embroidered. All blue, or colors mixed with blue, are photographically speaking white, accordingly as the blue more or less predominates.

As children are often troublesome and restless and hard to get a picture of, and as I do not wish to let poor work leave my Gallery, or be bothered with impossibilities over which I have no control, I kindly request mothers to bear in mind that babies should be brought to the Gallery between ten and two o'clock, the nearer ten the better. The reasons for this are obvious to wit:

FIRST:—THE CHILD IS NOT SO RESTLESS, THE MOTHER IS IN BETTER HUMOR IN THE FORENOON, THE ARTIST IS PRETTY LIKELY TO HAVE HAD HIS BREAKFAST, (WE SELDOM EVER GET DINNER) AND IS NOT SO IMPATIENT, HENCE BABY IS MORE LIKELY TO GET A GOOD PICTURE.

SECOND:—A PHOTOGRAPHER WISHES TO MAKE MONEY, OR AT LEAST A LIVING, AS WELL AS OTHER PEOPLE, AND DON'T LIKE TO BOTHER WITH BABIES IF THE GALLERY IS FULL OF LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, WHO ARE WAITING FOR SITTINGS, AND SEE NO END TO THE BABY-RATTLE AND CRY.

THIRD:—THE LIGHT IS NOT SO POWERFUL IN THE AFTERNOON AS IN THE MORNING.—THE ACTINIC POWER OF THE SUN'S RAYS ARE STRONGER AND MORE ACTIVE FROM SUNRISE TO NOON, THAN FROM NOON TO SUNDOWN. IT WOULD BE WELL FOR ADULTS TO BEAR THIS IN MIND WHO WANT SITTINGS FOR THEMSELVES.
